Our presenter, Raewyn Kinnis, not only has 34 years experience in local government building control, but is now employed as a BWOF Administrator for FFP Canterbury.

In this interactive session, not only will you gain valuable knowledge but you will have the opportunity to ask questions and get answers from both sides of the fence.

Raewyn Kinnis, FFP Canterbury

Raewyn Kinnis started her career in Building Compliance in 1984 when she accepted a position in the Building Unit at Timaru District Council. When the Building Act 1991 came into effect, Raewyn became involved with the Building Warrant of Fitness and Compliance Schedule Regimes.

From 1998 to 2000 Raewyn was Secretary of the South Island IQP panel and after this time moved to Christchurch City Council where she specialised in the technical aspects of the BWOF and Compliance Schedules. This included audits, generating and amending Compliance Schedules plus a couple of MBIE audits. She also became the first female Chair of the South Island IQP Registration Panel for 12 months.

One of the biggest challenges Raewyn faced in her role with Christchurch Council, came after the earthquakes which resulted in many buildings being un-occupiable or stuck in the commercial Red Zone and so could not be accessed. As a result Raewyn had to think outside the square to keep owners within the boundaries of the Building Act.

Raewyn is extremely passionate about the BWOF regime and is forever encouraging owners, Council and IQPs to work together to achieve the common aim of safety for users of buildings.
